The payment should be made in the form of Demand Draft drawn in favour of the Treasurer, IAAVR, payable at SBI, CARI, Izatnagar. The subscription may be revised by EC as and when required.

Mode of application: As per the proforma format.

GENERAL CONDITIONS

1. The award will be considered only when there is sufficient number of applicants for a particular award. Single application for an award will not allow competition and the purpose of award will be defeated.
2. The Association does not bear responsibility of storing bio-data and enclosures of an applicant submitted for award. Only bio-data and application of awardees will be stored for a period of one year only.
3. The Association will not return application for award submitted by an individual. The applicant should keep a copy of application as his/her own personal record.
4. A veterinarian should apply for one award at a time but not for multiple awards. An applicant should satisfy himself for his/her suitability for the best fitted award.
5. There is no cooling period for a veterinarian having received any award of IAAVR in a particular year; however, application for award each year by the same applicant will be discouraged.
6. Those veterinarians who are life members and have been attending IAAVR Conferences will get extra marks in the evaluation except for Dr. Rishendra Verma Young Scientist Award which is based on Oral Presentation by applicants.

7. The Association communicates in writing result of award to selected applicant only. The selected applicant will be required to present himself during Inaugural Session of Conference to receive the award, failing which there is no provision of granting award in absentia except under extremely adverse circumstances like natural calamity.
8. The veterinarian receiving award is not exempted from registration fee of Conference. Those awarded Fellowship informed in Advance may be required to present a paper of his/her specialization.
9. The age above for various awards will be at discretion of Executive Committee.
