Invitation

Dear Colleagues,

With immense pleasure, we invite you for the 23rd Indian Veterinary Congress and 30th Annual Conference of IAAVR & National Symposium on Advances in Tackling Antimicrobial Resistance and Ensuring Food Safety Under One Health Perspective during February 3-4 (Friday-Saturday), 2023 organized by College of Veterinary Science and Animal Husbandry, Anand - Gujarat. The objective of this conference is to bring together experts in life and nature, veterinary research, dairy sciences, food and nutrition, animal health, animal life care and various fields. The scientific program is tailored to impart this information to provide the most recent developments for all modalities of Animal Science. 23rd IAAVR Congress 2023 focuses on the exponential growth taking place in the veterinary sector. We sincerely hope that 23rd IAAVR Congress 2023 will serve as a national platform for meeting researchers from around the country, widen professional contact and create new opportunities, including establishing new collaborations.

We are looking forward to meet you at 23rd IAAVR Congress 2023. Please save the date, February 3-4, 2023, in your schedule for a memorable visit to the milk city, Anand.

With kind regards...

Organizing Committee (IAAVR, Anand)

About the University

In 2009, with the blessings of the then Hon'ble Chief Minister Shri Narendra Modi, a bill was introduced in the State Legislative Assembly to establish a new University in Veterinary, Dairy, Fisheries and Allied Sciences which was fondly named after the ancient holy cow, Kamdhenu, a cow which fulfils all wishes. Kamdhenu University has been established and incorporated by the Government of Gujarat as a teaching and affiliating University for the development of Veterinary and Animal Sciences including Dairy, Fisheries and Allied Sciences and for furthering the advancement of learning, conducting need based research and dissemination of findings of research and other technical information in Veterinary and Animal Sciences including Dairy, Fisheries and Allied Sciences in the State of Gujarat.

About the College

The College of Veterinary Science & Animal Husbandry is the oldest college of Gujarat which was established by the Government of Gujarat in August 1964. Excellent faculty, advanced infrastructure facilities for academics, advanced research and well-equipped Library are the salient features of this institute of repute, making it adjudged as a front runner by the Veterinary Council of India, attracting savvy, versatile candidates from far and wide. The College received "Best Veterinary College of the year Award" by Times Research Pvt. Ltd., New Delhi in the year 2013 and Worldwide achievers under the aegis of India Education Excellence Award in 2014. The College has completed 50 years of its glorious existence in the year 2014. From this College, a total of 2255 graduates and 1078 postgraduates (including Doctorate students) have earned their degrees till March 2020. The lush green campus houses administrative building, 18 Departments, 5 Research Stations, Niche area of excellence in Animal Biotechnology and a Centre of Excellence in Animal Nutrition.

About the Anand City

Anand is in the middle of the Gujarat state. It is popularly known as the milk city of India. This land harbours NDDDB, IRMA, Anand Agricultural University and other institutes. The iron man of the India, Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel is the son of this land. Anand is well connected via road and railway throughout the India. Nearest airport and railway junctions are Vadodara (40 km) and Ahmedabad (80 km).
